

EVANGELIST PICTURES CHRIST'S SECOND COMING

He Says Earth Will Be Emptied of All Its Inhabitants.

"At the second coming of Christ the wicked will be blotted from the face of the whole earth—consumed with the spirit of His mouth and destroyed by the brightness of His glory. The righteous dead will be raised and Christ will take His people to the city of God, and the earth will be emptied of all its inhabitants. Every city will be demolished, the whole earth become a wilderness and in this desolate, dreary place Satan will be bound for a thousand years."

Evangelist William H. Branson, in a forceful sermon at the canvas tabernacle on Georgia avenue, opposite the courthouse, Wednesday night made the above statement.

He stated that the millennium would begin in connection with the second coming of Christ. He cited the twentieth chapter of Revelations, where the subject of Satan is set forth. He also stated that the millennium would not mean a literal reign of Christ upon the earth, and the conversion of the nations to the gospel, but, instead, the whole earth would be completely depopulated.

The evangelist explained that the teaching that there would be a second chance during the millennium would cause many souls to be eternally lost; that the gospel commission was limited to this age, and there would be no probation after the coming of Christ.

He said: "At the close of this thousand years the wicked will be raised and Satan will go out to tempt them once more. At this time the Holy City, New Jerusalem, will come down from heaven to the earth as described by John in Revelations xx.2. With the city will come also Christ and all the righteous who were taken from the earth at the beginning of the millennium. The wicked who have come up out of their graves will be deceived by the devil into believing that it is possible for them to take the beautiful city by force. They will come up in battle array and compass the Holy City about, but instead of taking it for themselves they are destroyed—Fire come down from God out of heaven and devoured them.—Revelations xx.9.

"This fire will be literal and will not only destroy sinners out of the earth forever, but will also purify the earth. (II. Peter, ii:7-12.) All the marks of the curse brought by sin will be removed and the new earth of John's writings will come forth from the ruins of the old. The Garden of Eden will return to earth again and all will be restored as it was before man's fall."

Evangelist Branson will speak Thursday evening on "Signs of the End."

BUNCH OF PATRIOTIC BOYS VOLUNTARILY ENLIST

Twenty-five or Thirty Members of Well-Known Clarksville
Families at Oglethorpe.

During the past week twenty-five or thirty young men from Clarksville have enlisted in various military organizations at Fort Oglethorpe. They come from the best families of that city, some of them being under the selective service age. To local friends they express themselves as well pleased with conditions at Chattanooga's great army post and training camps, and seem to be taking to the army life as naturally as ducks take to water. There has long been a lively military spirit at Clarksville. The little city on the Cumberland furnished to the Confederate army a whole regiment and several more companies, and produced some of the famous commanders from the south in the civil war. The Spanish-American war drew a regiment from that locality, which went to the Philippines under the command of Col. Gracey Childers, and took active part in that brief conflict. The Clarksville boys now at Oglethorpe insist that they are upholding the standard of patriotic service adopted long ago by their community, and express a burning desire to get a whack at the Kaiser. A more enthusiastic crowd of young men has not been seen at the post.

YOUNG BANKER DONS KHAKI OF UNCLE SAM

Frank G. Rice Volunteers and Is Inducted in Headquarters
Company of Fifty-first.

Frank G. Rice, superintendent of the transit department of the Hamilton National bank, donned the khaki today by enlisting in the Fifty-first regiment at Fort Oglethorpe. The young soldier is the oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. James G. Rice. Last summer he volunteered in an officers' training camp at Camp Meade, but during the training sustained an injury that incapacitated him for military service. Later he submitted to a serious surgical operation at a local hospital for the removal of the bar to service, and as soon as the army medical board at the post would accept him he enlisted in the headquarters company of the Fifty-first regiment. Mr. Rice's associates at the Hamilton National bank, where he has been employed the past eight years, presented him with a valuable watch as a testimonial of their esteem.

COLORED SOLDIER WRITES FROM FRANCE

Corporal Jack Crawley Remembers His Mother on Mother's Day.

Corporal Jack Crawley, one of Chattanooga's colored soldiers, now in France as a member of Company M, 372d R. I. C., S. P. 229, has written a letter of interest to his mother, Mary Reed, of 512 Robbins avenue, from "somewhere in France." Corporal Crawley has been in France about two months, and he has three brothers, Charles and Herbert Crawley, at Camp Dodge, who are ready to go over, and Robert Crawley at Camp Meade. Corporal Crawley's letter was written on Mother's day, May 12. He says, in part:

"I take great delight in being able to write you on this day. Hope you are enjoying the best of health and happiness. Would like very much to be with you today, but the best that I can do is to write.

"While you in the states are celebrating Mothers' day, every soldier in France has been instructed to write a few words home.

"I am getting along fine so far, excepting a slight cold. I always keep one of them.

"We are enjoying everything over here, except the weather. It rains about every two days and has turned very cool today. It feels more like late fall than spring. However, we are making the best of it.

"Do you know whether Charles and Herbert are over here? If so let me know.

"It is somewhat lonesome to be so far from home and all old friends, and we shall welcome that day when we shall be able to start on our return journey.

"I know you find it very hard to have us so far away, but be brave and do not worry about me, because I am getting along fine physically, and really believe that I am improving spiritually."

He then closes his letter with his love to a number of friends and the hope that his mother will continue in good health.

UNIVERSITY PRESIDENT ENTHUSIASTIC GARDENER

Dr. F. W. Hixson Proud of His Vegetable Patch on University Grounds.

One of the most enthusiastic war gardeners in Chattanooga is Dr. F. W. Hixson, of the University of Chattanooga. He has under cultivation the large square of university property at the corner of Vine and Douglas, and may be seen almost every day working his garden. Wednesday evening he was observed by the residents of that section of town harvesting an early snap bean crop, which is unusually good for an amateur gardener. Dr. Hixson has about half an acre planted in various kinds of vegetables, and all of his crops look promising. He will produce on this ground enough vegetables to supply several families, and he makes it a point to see that nothing is wasted.

GOES WEST IN HOPE OF REGAINING HIS HEALTH

John O. Benson Leaves to Find a New Home in the Far West.

John O. Benson has gone to find a new home in the west with the hope of regaining his health which has been impaired for some time. The many friends of Mr. Benson regret exceedingly to see him leave, but trust that in his new home he will find not only new health but success in his chosen profession, which he so nobly deserves. There is no better liked nor more highly respected lawyer at the local bar than John O. Benson and by his rugged honesty and strict attention to business has built up a nice law practice which his health now requires him to give up. But a man of Mr. Benson's character will make good anywhere. It is only a matter of time until he has established himself as enviable a record in the west as he had in Hamilton county.

TROCO

The Successor to Butter Made From the White Meat of Tropic Coconuts

WHILE European countries have long used butter made from cocoanuts, America has perfected the de luxe product. The flavor of Troco is only rivaled by the finest dairy product. The more critical you are the better you will appreciate the quality of Troco.

Your enjoyment of this new delicacy is increased by the thought of its appetizing ingredients. The fat from the same dainty white coconut meat you use shredded on cake and pure pasteurized milk is an appealing combination.

The fastidious care used in every process of making is another recommendation. The makers of Troco specialize in this one product.

High Nutritive Value

Troco, like butter, is invaluable energy food of the highest nutritive value. It is equally digestible and easily assimilated.

It is not a substitute for butter, but really butter's successor, solving the butter problem for millions.

Old laws, made before this great discovery, compel us to label it as an oleomargarine, but Troco contains no animal oils—and no preservatives—it is made only from vegetable fats and milk—wholesome, natural ingredients. A capsule of the same vegetable coloring used by butter makers supplied with every carton by your grocer.

Judge It for Quality Alone

Troco wins users on quality alone. You should judge it from this standpoint only. Compare it to the finest creamery butter you have ever used. Serve it without explanation. The unanimous verdict will be "Please pass the Troco."
